

Bonding is a technique for strongly attaching tooth colored restorations to teeth. While the term "bonding" is usually used to refer to direct composite restorations restoring unaesthetic or broken teeth, the technique is also used to place PORCELAIN VENEERS, COMPOSITE FILLINGS, DENTAL SEALANTS, and other dental restorations. The primary advantages of bonding are that it's a strong bond and it's a transparent, aesthetic result. Call us for an exam appointment and let us show you how bonding can be used to beautify your smile.
